DID YOU KNOW?

Up to 90% of brain development happens before age 5, making the early years the most important time to invest in quality education.

Investments in high quality learning, especially for high need children, bring a high rate of return to the public—saving up to $12 for every $1 spent—resulting in children ready to learn, a stronger economy and more responsible, engaged citizens.

Minnesota has one of the worst opportunity gaps in the nation. When children enter school not prepared to learn, it impacts not only their personal achievement, but the learning experience of all children in their classroom.
